A Sons Brutal Deed

ST. LOUIS, December 17.—George Gardner, aged 20 years, was today fatally beaten by his son Emil, aged 17. The boy bears a bad reputation. The quarrel arose over the refusal of the mother to turn 'them with money.

A Venerable Poet's Birthday.

BOSTON, December 17.—To day was the eighty second anniversary of the birth of the poet, Whittier. He is very feeble and at his own request he will be spared the fatigue of receiving the congratulations of his friends who have been accustomed to visit him on these occasions.

The Deadly Wires.

TOLEDO, December 17.—This morning Robert Dalton, a painter, while at work lost his footing and fell across two electric light wires. He was instantly killed by the current. The body lay for an hour or so across the wires, which burned deep into his flesh, from which smoke and a sickening stench arose.

Pen [illegible] for [illegible]

WASHINGTON, December 17.—Senator Turpie, from the committee on pensions, to day made a favorable report on Quay's bill fixing $72 per month as the pension to be granted all persons who are or may become totally helpless from injuries received or diseases contracted while in the military or naval service of the United States.

Accounts Allowed

WASHINGTON, December 17.—First Comptroller Matthews has decided to allow the accounts of United States Marshal Nicolles, of Oklahoma, and the United States commissioners appointed by Judge Shackelford for duty in that territory, on the ground that the services rendered by them were legal and proper. The accounts amount to about $15,000.

A Mysterious Fire.

WASHINGTON, December 17.—Fire started in some mysterious way again last night in the large handsome mahogany desk in the center of the office of the secretary of war and burned a large hole through the top before it was discovered and extinguished. Several papers were destroyed. Secretary Proctor cannot understand how the fire originated, as he does not smoke and keeps no matches about the desk.

DENVER, December 17.—A Times Washington special says: H. P. Voorhees has tendered his resignation as collector of the port at Denver and it is understood that Colonel Heffron will be appointed.

Senator Wolcott has introduced a joint memorial to the senate for the establishment of a national park in the northwestern part of Colorado, embracing Trappers' lake.

Toole [illegible] His M

HELENA, Mont., December 17.—Governor Toole this morning sent to the senate and democratic house his message. The republican house was ignored by the governor. The senate took up the message this afternoon. The republican house have so far paid no attention to the warrant sent its members by the democratic minority and it has decided to disregard it. A resolution to that effect was introduced this afternoon.

[illegible] the Postal

LONDON, December 17.—While a postman was delivering mail in a building in Hatton Garden this morning he was attacked by three men who wounded him, robbed him of the letter bag, carried him to an adjacent room and locked him in and escaped. It is stated that the mail stolen comprises a registered package from the cape of Good Hope containing diamonds. The postoffice authorities, however, declare that the cape mails were delivered yesterday.

Dismissed From the Force.

CHICAGO, December 17.—Detectives John Swift and M. J. Crowe and Patrolman Redmond McDonald, who testified in favor of Daniel Coughlin in the recent Cronin trial, received notices of dismissal to day from the force "for conduct unbecoming an officer and for neglect of duty." "This is only the beginning of the removals," said an officer to day. "and from this time on you can look out for the removal of Clan na Gael men and their sympathizers daily."

The Sioux Delegation.

WASHINGTON, December 17.—The Sioux investigation committee met to day and completed the consideration of the legal points involved and practically reached an agreement on a measure which may be regarded as a compromise between the diverse views of the members. This measure will provide for a reference of the subject to the court of claims, which tribunal is to determine the responsibility for the depletion and to adjust the claims of members of lost money if it follows from their findings that they are entitled to reimbursement by the government. Another meeting of the committee is to be held to perfect the form of the measure and to agree upon the details yet unsettled.

Senate Committee Work

WASHINGTON, December 17.—The senate committee on finance to day ordered favorable reports upon the following bills:

To relieve the treasury of the necessity of carrying upon its books the balance of unavailable assets that have accrued since the formation of the government. These account to about $28,000,000.

A direct tax bill in the shape in which it passed both houses of the last congress.

The senate committee on education to-day instructed Chairman Blair to report favorably his educational bill. This action does not however bind any member of the committee as to his action on the floor of the senate. The nomination of Wm. T. Harris to be commissioner of education was ordered reported favorably.

The senate committee on pensions referred the dependent pension bill to a sub committee.

PARNELL'S ADDRESS.

The Great Irish Orator Addresses Nottingham Meetings.

The Progress of the Movement for Home Rule for Ireland.

Balfour's Mixture of Coercion Denounced by Mr. Parnell.

Ireland Declined to be Trampled Underfoot.

Parnell at Nottingham

LONDON, December 17.—Parnell, who was to speak in reply to a speech recently made by Lord Salisbury at Nottingham, arrived in that city to day. A great crowd was at the railway station and he was greeted with mingled groans and cheers. Parnell addressed a large meeting this afternoon. He declared that there never had been a movement of such magnitude in a country which was so comparatively free from crime as the land league movement. The object of the home rule movement was to regenerate Ireland especially with regard to her industrial condition. Balfour's plan of making railways through impoverished districts was a vain expedient. Home rule meant national regeneration. This implied the regeneration of industries and the industrial and commercial spirit of the people. If home rule was granted it would not discourage the rich people of England from providing the industrial developments, but the money would be judiciously and advantageously employed, instead of being wasted as now, to maintain in power a government of fraud and trickery. Expenditures of that sort would enable Ireland to get and keep her head above the water and so exercise and develop the qualities of her people that she would be no longer an exhibition for the wonder and scorn of the nations of the world.

Parnell devoted his speech to night to the tenants' league. He said this was by far the greatest and most powerful peace movement ever organized in Ireland, or any other country. Although Ireland was tranquil she was not appeased, and she did not submit. On the contrary the people's dislike of the government was tenfold more intense for the experience of three years of coercion. But the country though it did not yield was strengthened in the faith it had in the assurances of Gladstone that the triumphant liberal party would soon give it legitimate freedom. Parnell would not say that it would be impossible to govern Ireland by mere coercion, but Balfour's mixture of coercion and constitutionalism would never succeed. Balfour had made several mistakes. Among these he had neglected to provide for arrears in rent and for the restitution of evicted tenants. This had led to the formation of an agrarian movement which would sweep Balfour and his props away as chaff swept before a whirlwind. If the government had nothing to be ashamed of in its connection with the Times case, doubtless it would gratify curiosity by making known the truth about the matter of the Parnell commission, which instead of trying personal indictments had tried the Irish nation and the movements of the Irish party.

[illegible] in New York

NEW YORK, December 17.—The sanitary inspector, who has investigated the report of the Russian influenza having arrived, reported to day to the board of health. The matter will be brought to the attention of the board by Dr. Sellman who notified it that seven members of the family of Albert Klamoth were suffering from what he believed to be Russian influenza. The inspector says:

"The ages of those attacked range from fifty years to four years, all but two little children being over twenty one years. No cause for the attack is apparent, none of the family having recently arrived from Europe or been associated or thrown in contact with recent arrivals or any one suffering from the disease though certain ones recently received letters from Europe. The first case occurred on December 11. The chief symptoms were sudden faintness, a chill and marked prostration which was then succeeded by headache and a general feeling of malaria followed by acute coryza, pharyngitis and slight laryngitis winding up with bronchitis. The examination showed that the patients were about as sick as persons with a bad cold. The duration of the attack was two days and upwards." Health Officer Edson said he had no doubt it is the real Russian influenza.

A Brutal Fight

BUTTE, Mont., December 17.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock this morning John M. Gallagher died in his house from the effects of injuries received from G. H. Ward in a brutal fist fight that took place on Sunday morning. The cause of the fight was a dispute over a trifling account. The fight was formally arranged to take place at a wooding resort a couple of miles from the town. Only the principals and a dozen others were present. One hundred and five rounds were fought, all of them bloodish in their brutality, the men fighting like tigers. Ward knocked Gallagher down 98 times. Gallagher's left arm was broken by a blow in the 40th round, but he fought on with undiminished ferocity, his black swelling as big as his body. In the 98th round Ward caught Gallagher off his guard and delivered a terrible right hander under his chin, knocking Gallagher senseless. He partially recovered and fought seven more rounds in a half dazed condition, receiving horrible punishment until he knocked out in the one hundred and fifth round.

Fire in Trinidad

DENVER, December 17.—A Trinidad special says: Fire was discovered in the basement of the United States livery stable about 1 o'clock this morning. The wind was blowing strong from the west and in spite of the efforts of the firemen the hay in the second story caught fire. After that it was only a question of how many buildings would burn and how much stock would be saved. The one story and basement stone building adjoining was the next to catch fire. This also was burned and the postoffice building was only saved by desperate fight. Forty two horses were in the barn and of these forty were burned. Twen

Players' League in Session

NEW YORK, December 17.—The Players' league began its session to day and proceeded to discuss the relations of the clubs to the league and the rules. The committee on playing rules held a session in another parlor of the hotel. The forenoon session was occupied in adopting a set of by laws. A representative of the St. Louis American association club was present hoping to arrange for admission to the Players' league.

At the afternoon session the report of the committee on playing rules was taken up. The most important change was a provision to have two umpires at each game, one behind the bat and the other in the field. The pitchers' box is enlarged to 5 feet 6 inches. Tim Keefe's ball was adopted.

Fifty-First Congress

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, December 17.—Among the bills reported from the committees and placed on the calendar was one to relieve the treasurer of the United States from amounts now charged to him and deposited with several states, and one to increase the pensions of pensioners who are entirely helpless.

Hale from the committee on appropriations reported back a small deficiency bill, the amount being $150,000 for public printing and binding and $300,000 for the preliminary printing for the eleventh census. The bill passed.

Manderson offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of the interior for information as to the disposition of lands comprised within the military reservations which have been relinquished by the war department.

Cockrell offered a resolution, which was referred to the postoffice committee, calling on the postmaster general for estimates of the increased cost required for the extension of the free delivery system to all towns and cities having not less than 3000 inhabitants, and where the gross annual postoffice revenue is at least $3000, also to the cities and towns of 5000 inhabitants and with a gross annual postoffice revenue of $7000.

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The session of the house to day was brief. After the introduction of a few bills a resolution offered for calling the states alphabetically for the introduction of bills was referred to the committee on rules and as nothing could be done the house adjourned.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, December 17.—Stocks to day were dull and stagnant for the general list and the only features were supplied by a few stocks subject to special influences. The sensation of the forenoon was the manipulation of the sugar refineries. The price of the stock however while it opened at 62 was soon sold down to 61. The market closed dull but steady at about the best figures. Oregon Short Line advanced 3¼, Denver, Texas and Ft. Worth 1¼, Burlington and Chicago Gas 1¼.

New York will hang up her stocking for the world's fair but there is a big hole in the toe.

Senator Blair favors a federal prohibition law. The senator ought to secede from the union and start a republic of his own, on an island in the middle of the ocean.

The officials of the Chicago police force have begun the removal of policemen who are members of or sympathizers with the Clan na Gael. The Clan na Gael itself is a candidate for dismission and the sooner its position in society is vacated the better.

An Aspen paper, with an attempt at sarcasm, says that Colorado Springs "occasionally shows signs of lingering animation." One of the worst features attached to the rapid growth and prosperity of this city is the jealousy it awakens in the surrounding camps.

It is said that an honest effort is now being made to organize a new and genuine republican party in Virginia. It is a pity that this work was not begun before. There might have been one less democratic governor in the country if a genuine republican organization had been effected in that state previous to the last election. An ounce of Mahoneism and a vast deal more of true republicanism is what the new organization must put into its platform and candidates if the party is to be successful.

The New York Sun still continues its terrible charges against John Wanamaker. A long and diligent search by the Sun's brilliant Washington correspondent has developed the fact that on October 24 the mercantile house of which the postmaster general is at the head, bid on and secured the contract for fourteen cuspidors for the war department, brass, at forty cents each. This is made the subject of an editorial by the Sun. The propriety of political appointees in this is difficult to see. If the department decided that there is no reason why the house of Wanamaker should not furnish them, and the price does not appear to be one from which the contractors will make a very large profit. The Sun, in its painful effort to be humorous, is attracting the kind of sympathy from the people which is usually devoted exclusively to a lunatic asylum.

When General Grubb was nominated by the republicans of New Jersey for the governorship there was a loud howl from the democratic press here. It was said that he was not a citizen of the state and therefore not eligible to office in New Jersey. The charge against General Grubb was a trumped up one and not based on facts. He was in business in Philadelphia, but both he and his family lived in Beverly, N. J. That was his home and had been for years. There is now a case presented in the Garfield family where the eligibility of a candidate for office is questioned on the same grounds, but it is probable that at least a part of the zeal which attacked General Grubb will be silent now. Colonel Calvin S. Brice, of New York, is a self announced candidate for senator from Ohio. Colonel Brice gave up his residence in Ohio eight years ago and moved to New York not voting or claiming residence, it is alleged, in the Buckeye state since. It would seem as if this ought to be sufficient to crush Brice's boom.

An Anglo-American Treaty.

WASHINGTON, December 17.—President Harrison to day transmitted to the senate the extradition treaty with England, referred to in his message and negotiated by Secretary Blaine and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British minister. By its terms the number of extraditable offenses is largely increased, the most important addition being that of child enticement, so if the treaty be ratified Canada and the United States will cease to exchange a class of undesirable residents who have hitherto secured immunity from punishment.

The Samoan treaty negotiated at Berlin last spring has not been transmitted to the senate.

A Vermont Church Sixty Years Ago.

Congregational Review.

Sermon time the text was given out Deacon Batchelder, who was old and very deaf, rose from his pew, walked heavily down the aisle, and half ascended the pulpit steps. Then he adjusted his ear trumpet, and sat there through the long sermon a prone and attentive, but most grotesque figure. The singers' seat stretched entirely across the church in front of the pulpit—two long rows with a rack or desk for hymn books between them. The men singers sat with their backs to the pulpit, while the women faced them. When the leader struck his tuning fork and gave the key, all stood up and literally howled and sang in each other's faces. All the old mournful minor tunes were great favorites, and all sin, misery, death, hell fire, damnation and lost souls gave the greatest satisfaction to both singers and parson. Questions of doctrine were Elder Whitcomb's greatest joy and most frequent discussion, and several times a year he preached on the "imperdonable sin," but we must remember that he had none of the sins of great cities to form subjects of sermons and to preach against—not even that of intemperance, for the simple reason that it was then considered a sin in no one to drink strong liquors provided a man stopped short of gross intoxication. Habitual drinkers were all those of New England farmers. In nearly every household in the winter months a little pewter flagon or tankard filled with boiling water (and with straw covered handle to prevent burning the hand) was brought in to the farmers at 9 o'clock, the regular bedtime. Then a great pitcher of rum toddy or cider flip was brewed and every one, men, women and children, drank of it, and thus went warmed to their ice cold chambers where the snow sifted in little drifts on the floor. No farm hand would work at plowing and haying without three glasses of rum a day. I saw the last work woman who took their places among these farm laborers, wood weaver or Indian squaw course—all demanded, received and drank their daily glass of rum. Beers were not influential beverages in Vermont in those days and cases of hard drinks and depravities were reported at the annual meeting and the hour was planned there as well. It was not supposed to exist out in action, destroy death to the beer and giving a different reason for the large consumption of New England rum. But the bears are gone with forests and the old Andover church has gone also. A chance spark from some Indian set fire to the Jackson barn. The fire could be plainly seen with only the bucket from the old well sweep and rude pails to carry water in. Soon the dance spread and the high winds blew them across the road to the old wooden church and it was destroyed together and only yesterday and a few half burned timbers mark the spot where a century old institution stood. Days were spent.

DON'T PAY RENT.

We are selling our Installment houses very rapidly, and many men who have paid out hundreds of dollars for rent are now applying the money toward paying for their own homes. To buy on installments is good policy, even if the property did not advance, for it enables the buyer to save his money, but there is a steady and sure advance in value on every foot of property in this city. The best installment bargains on our list at present are as follows:

New 2-roomed house, pantry, closet, cellar, city water, on lot 50x140 feet. Patrick's for $1250. Terms $150 cash and $25 per month. Will take some good unencumbered property in trade for this.

New house of 4 rooms, closet, cellar, 50 foot lot, on Hermosa for $900. Terms $100 cash and $25 per month. A bargain.

Two 2-room houses, [illegible] house, for $700. Terms $70 cash and $15 a month.

Artz for the defendants The money for all these fines goes into the general school fund of the county

On Monday night a young man named Porter fell under the wheels of a Santa Fe car and had his left arm so badly crushed that it had to be amputated He had been stealing a ride on the brake beam and was getting off to get warm The young fellow is named W C Porter and is an engraver by trade He had previously lost a leg and wore a cork substitute He states that his father is named J C Porter and that he lives in Pittsburg, Pa Being without money he was taken to the county house where Dr. Strickler performed the operation

On next Saturday evening at the opera house Bobsey Kiralfy's big spectacular company will appear in his latest success "Antiope," a ballet spectacle in three tableaux, originally presented at the Alhambra theatre, London, with great success The production was brought over complete by Mr Kiralfy, who had all the original scenery, dresses, and effects freshly duplicated by them for the dancer. The plot of Antiope is slight but interesting, and is together adequate for the introduction of grand ballets and marches, telling specialties and catchy songs. Of course the ballet features are the most prominent in all Kiralfy's plays, and the chief premiere is Mlle Francesina Paris, a very beautiful and accomplished dancer, she leads the superb corps de ballet Another big star is Senorita Carmencita, the renowned Spanish dancer who set all the New Yorkers wild with enthusiasm She wears long skirts and her dancing is described as simply marvelous Miss Alice Gilbert, from the Gaiety theatre, London, also dances in long skirts and is another strong attraction In addition Senor and Senora Pistana the wonderful Spanish gymnasts; the Tissotis, living mechanics; Alexander Davis, the great violinist, and Arnold Kiralfy, in his specialty specialty, will appear.
